Bobcats Romp Over Benton Team, 33 to 0, for 10th Victory

Championship Tilt at Pine Bluff Now Only a Week Away

Governor Bailey, McCarroll Witness Hope's Victory Thursday night

ELLEN HIGH SCORER

Bobcat Quarterback, Moore Play Brilliantly for Each Team

By LEONARD ELLIS

The 1939 Hope High School football team—billed as the strongest all-around club in the history of the local school—ended the current grid campaign at home Thursday in a blaze of glory by whipping the Benton Panthers, 33 to 0.

The victory cleared the path for the Bobcats to meet Pine Bluff November 30 for the Arkansas High School conference football championship at Pine Bluff.

Among interstate spectators Thursday night were Governor Carl E. Bailey and State Revenue Commissioner Z. M. McCarroll of Little Rock.

Ellen Leads Attack

Sparked by the sensational Bobby Ellen who scored three touchdowns and kicked an extra point for a total of 19 points, the Bobcats got off to a good start and scored in every quarter except the third.

Ellen, with his all-around playing, strengthened his bid for all-state honors. His 19 points sent him to the top of conference scorers with a total of 55 points. The second highest scorer now is Robert Hutson, Pine Bluff ace, with 48 points.

Coach Foy Haimmons wisely removed Ellen at the beginning of the fourth quarter as a precaution against Moore's brilliant attack.

While Ellen was the "big show" for Hope, the visiting team presented a great star in Fullback J. P. Moore who carried the brunt of the Panther offensive attack.

Moore lived up to his reputation as the outstanding punter in Arkansas high school football. He thrilled a large crowd by getting off a high-spirited 65-yard boot on his first attempt. Two other kicks traveled 56 and 32 yards. Moore kicked a total of 11 times for a neat average of 40 yards per try. That's bootin' that ball.

Moore, weighing 180 pounds, put on a one-man demonstration of ball totting in the second quarter that seriously threatened the Bobcat goal line. With the exception of one play, Moore carried the ball down the field for 68 yards where he was finally stopped on the one-yard line on fourth down by Fullback Joe Eason of Hope. It was the only serious scoring threat by the visitors.

The Opening Score

The Bobcats lost no time in scoring, put over two touchdowns in the initial quarter. Benton received to start the game. Moore promptly quick-kicked for 65 yards, the ball rolling over the goal line. It was brought out on the 20 where Ellen got away for 11. Baker ripped off five and then Ellen brought the ball to the 50.

Ellen made four more and then a pass failed. Eason kicked out on the Benton 11. Moore made three through the Hope line and then booted to Ellen who returned 60 yards down the field for a touchdown. The play was nullified because of an off-side penalty.

Moore again kicked to Ellen who was forced out of bounds on the Benton 20 after a 43-yard return of the punt. Eason went off tackle for five. Baker advanced four and then Eason made a first down on the Benton 9.

Ellen took the ball on the next play and hurried around right end for the first touchdown. Ellen's attempted kick was wide.

The Panthers took the kickoff, Moore returning to his 30. The Panthers were set back 15 for holding. Moore hit the line for a nice gain and on the next play got loose for 44 yards to bring the ball up the field to the Hope 45. Benton again was penalized 15 yards for holding.

Bundy intercepted a Benton pass in midfield. Baker dashed off five through the line and the Bobcats suffered a 15-yard penalty. Ellen faked an end-run and passed to J. D. Jones who gathered in the piggskin as though taking a basketball with a one-hand catch. It was good for 26 yards.

Eason and Baker alternated to carry the ball to 10. Ellen advanced five and Eason rammed over center to the three. On the next play Ellen shot over Right Guard Quimby for the score. Ellen then kicked the extra point.

Benton received. Crawford returning to his 22. Moore carried the ball

Fans Will Decide Whether They Want a Special Train

The Hope High School Athletic committee met Friday morning and decided to leave it up to Hope fans as to whether a special train would be chartered to the championship football game between Hope and Pine Bluff November 30 at Pine Bluff.

Here's the proposition: The Missouri Pacific railroad requires a guarantee of 200 adult tickets at $2.75 for each round-trip ticket. That figures $550 for the railroad guarantee. The Athletic committee doesn't want to lay that much cash on the line—and "take a chance."

Hope fans who desire to ride a special train are urged to make up their minds this week-end. If you want a special train this is what you should do:

Go to the office of Roy Anderson, South Main street, and plunk down the cash for as many tickets as you want. You will be given a receipt for each $2.75. Late Monday afternoon the athletic committee will total the cash and decide then and there on the train.

If there has been as many as 100 receipts issued—by Monday afternoon—the special train "is in the bag." If there is not enough cash by the Monday afternoon deadline—well, no special train. Your money would then be refunded by turning in your receipts.

The athletic committee must know definitely by Monday afternoon. The committee is leaving it up to you to make up your mind. The committee wants a special train—but it must also have a guarantee that Hope fans want a special train.

The committee also pointed out that next Thursday will be observed as Thanksgiving in Arkansas. The traffic on highways will be heavier than usual. The committee pointed out that it would be safer to ride a train on that day.

Zebras Take to Air for 14 to 7 Victory

Pine Bluff Shows Great Passing Game and Neat Trickery

By LEONARD ELLIS

ATLANTA.—Led by Fleetfooted Robert Hutson, a formidable high school football team from Pine Bluff, Ark., defeated Georgia Military Academy, 14 to 7, at Suburban East Point, Thursday night.

Zebras Use Passes to Win
The Pine Bluffers took to the air to win. They resorted to many forward laterals and a dash of neat trickery to outplay their rivals.

Hutson passed the Georgians off their feet in the brisk game, which G. M. A. Coach Bud Harris characterized as "one of the fastest and one of the cleanest games my boys have played in this year."

Harris blamed Pine Bluff's superb aerial attack for his defeat.

"We couldn't do a thing with it," he lamented.

G. M. A. evenly matched on the ground and displaying a sturdy defense, crumpled when the Arkansas lads started heaving the ball to all corners of the lot.

Georgians Score First
The Georgians scored first. They snared a pass taking the ball to the 15-yard line, then plunging over in the first period. Lanford speared the ball out of the air and Smoak carried it over.

Zebras Demonstrate Superiority
The superiority of the Arkansas team was demonstrated when it chalked up its second score in the third period. After a series of punts, Hutson heaved a lateral for a 12-yard gain, then picked up eight yards more with some fancy stepping through the G. M. A. defense.

A. G. M. A. penalty of five yards left the ball on the one-yard stripe for first down. Hutson crashed over for the score when the G. M. A. line buckled before a powerful onslaught.

Pine Bluff Line Holds
The G. M. A. Cadets found the going tough when they battered the Pine Bluff line. In the entire first half they were able to make only one first down, and only one throughout the third quarter. Pine Bluff outgained G. M. A. 234 yards to 99.

In the final period, Pine Bluff advanced the ball for two first downs in succession, with Hutson flipping the ball for another, but the Arkansas push bogged down on the 30 when another pass went awry.

The boys were hard at it, with neither team making a definite threat, when the game ended.

Meroney was lost to Pine Bluff early in the game when a shoulder injury sent him to the side lines after a pile-up. Hart took his place at right half.

State legislatures passed 600 laws in the general field of welfare during 1939 sessions.

China Trade Route Severed by Japs

Supply Road From Indo-China Is Taken by Invaders Friday

By LEONARD ELLIS

HONGKONG, British Crown Colony.—(AP)—Japanese army headquarters here announced Friday night that Japanese forces entered Nanning, Kwangsi province capital, early in the afternoon.

Japanese troops moved into the city, which lies on the key supply route from French Indo-China, after an artillery and air bombardment had reduced its defenses, the announcement said. The Japanese reported the outskirts of Nanning were badly damaged.

'Misinformation' Blamed
Governor Bailey said "misinformation" on the Social Security Board's requirements for the establishment of merit systems for employees of the state Welfare Department and the Unemployment Compensation Division of which the state Employment Service is a branch, had "created an enormous amount of disturbance."

He explained a preliminary conference with Mr. McDonald Thursday morning had convinced him the board requirements had been "misinterpreted." The board, the governor said, simply is asking the Unemployment Compensation Division and the Welfare Department "to devise and submit a merit plan."

Making it plain he was opposed to the introduction of new merit system plans in state departments, Governor Bailey said his experience with state civil service had convinced him there are "a great many fallacies with the so-called merit system." Addressing the congressmen and Senator Miller, he asserted:

"All of us elective officials would like to have a civil service law protect our positions after we are elected, but the public reserves the right to get us out, and I think public employees should be subject to the wrath of the people of the state."

"The American system is to try a man in a job and if he doesn't measure up, to fire him. I still feel that the best way to get meritorious employees is for a man with sound experience to select his employees in the light of that experience."

Referring to the Social Security Act amendment requiring establishment of merit systems for employees of state departments or agencies receiving Social Security Board funds, the chief executive declared:

"I object to the law and I hope it will be changed, repealed, modified or something so it can be supplanted by a rule of common sense. But this is the law and we propose to comply with the law whether we like it or not."

Southern Resentment Aroused
"News reports are sometimes inaccurate, although infrequently so," the governor said as he opened the meeting. "Their interpretation of this situation has created a rather strange atmosphere for purposes of this meeting. Therefore, we will require forbearance to arrive at a decision."

"The report that Mr. McNutt (Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator) would refuse further aid to states which did not comply with regulations setting up the merit system, and butcher the poor people, naturally aroused my Southern resentment."

One member of the Arkansas congressional delegation showed reporters the letter of invitation to the meeting received from the governor. It said:

"The subject matter of the conference is the proposal of the Social Security Board to assume control of the employment and discharge of state employees. Mr. McNutt has already issued an ultimatum that unless the states accede to this demand, federal

Gov. Bailey Agrees, Blames Controversy on Misunderstanding

A U. S. CONFERENCE

Announcement Follows Meeting With U. S. Social Security Chief

LITTLE ROCK.—State department will comply with the law "whether we like it or not," Governor Bailey told heads of the Welfare Department, Health Department and Unemployment Compensation Division setting up the merit system, system plan for their employees in accordance with the amended federal social security act.

The instructions were given at the conclusion of a conference at the capitol attended by department heads, Regional Social Security Board Director Ed McDonald and members of his staff, United States Senator John E. Miller of Searcy, Congressman Wade Kitchens of Magnolia, W. F. Norrell of Monticello, E. C. Gathings of West Memphis, Wilbur D. Mills of Kensett and Fado Cravens of Fort Smith and other interested persons.

Mr. McDonald explained the act requires the setting up of merit systems by January 1, 1940. Saying it was "very obvious" there had been a "misunderstanding" as to the board's intention, he heard a section of the law stating that the federal board would have no jurisdiction over the selection, tenure of office or compensation of employees of the affected state departments and agencies.

New Tax Forecast by Roosevelt in Defense Financing

Cost Expected to Run Between 1 and 2 1/2 Billion Dollars

TRADE, PEACE PLAN

Hull Thinks Reciprocal Trade Treaty Foundation for Peace

WARM SPRINGS, Ga.—(AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed Friday that some consideration is being given to the idea of a special tax to finance expenditures for national defense, which may be increased by 1/2 billion dollars in the next fiscal year.

Those expenditures, the president indicated, will be in excess of one billion dollars, but probably not as high as 2 1/2 billions.

Questions about business and taxation led the president into a discussion of defense and its financing. Of course, he said, the objective of the administration was to cut down all expenditures which possibly could be whittled at the present time.

The Trade Program

His press conference statement added official weight to indications that the administration wanted to retain the program as the basis for a lasting peace when the war is ended.

Weisenberger Speaks to Rotary on First U. S. Amendment

Royce Weisenberger, Hempstead county representative, told Hope Rotary club Friday noon at Hotel Barlow that although Communists and Bund members advocate doctrines alien to our conception of Americanism their right to speak and print their views can not be suppressed without violating in this nation the government procedure which is followed today in the very countries which Communists and Bund members profess to admire—Russia and Germany.

Mr. Weisenberger, introduced by William Wray, took his text from the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, declaring for freedom of worship, and of speech, and of press.

The representative deplored publication of obvious propaganda in newspapers and magazines, and publication in family journals of debatable advertising matter, such as liquor. He said The Star had performed a public service by rejecting whisky advertising in Hope.

Disclosure of radical views merely provokes a healthy reaction by the rest of the public, the speaker said; and it is this composite picture of freely-expressed public opinion which has supported democratic procedure for more than a century and a half in the United States. Congressmen and legislators know what the people are thinking and saying, and are governed accordingly, the speaker concluded.

Guests Friday were: Ted VanPelt, president of Prescott Rotary; Oliver Williams, member of the Sheridan club; and W. O. Washburn, member of the Wilkes-Barre (Pa.) club.

Just Where Does the Girl Friend Fit?

Associated and sundry experts continue to argue lustily over what to do with the women. In Buffalo, N. Y., recently, Will Durant, author of books on philosophy, warned that civilization would "decay" unless women put on aprons again and took up their old posts at the kitchen sink. He suggested that ladies have become "luxuries" instead of the "helpmates" they were divinely designed to be.

Springing nimbly to Mr. Durant's side is Dr. John Edward Brown, president of John Brown University, Siloam Springs, Ark. Dr. Brown regrets that we are training our young ladies "for a man's world rather than a woman's world," and adds cryptically that we are "putting out twice as much dog food as baby food."

Both gentlemen are worried because the modern woman is more at ease over a computer machine than over a kettle of turnips. They hate to think of what might happen if that sort of thing were carried too far.

Down New England way, a woman who carved a comfortable niche for herself in this "man's world" is equally worried over what is happening to woman's status.

Miss Sybil Holmes is the only woman member of the Massachusetts State Unemployment Compensation Commission, and she believes that girls should train themselves for business careers—especially if they want to get into public life.

Miss Holmes sees the fine hand of masculine jealousy in legislative measures designed to cut the girls down a peg or two. Men, she says, who aim to put their feminine colleagues back into house dresses just want to get women's jobs for men.

Furthermore, Miss Holmes thinks, bills which would equalize working hours for men and women are discriminatory against the ladies. The gals have consented—a little grumpily perhaps—to hang onto street car straps, but they'll be damned if they're going all the way in this equality business.

Anyone who knows anything about domestic affairs ought to know better than to believe the debate will ever be settled. Maybe the relatively new ideas on feminism are just whims, and maybe they're here to stay. But the battle between the sexes isn't new. It's just being fought on a new field.

Chocolate Milk Good for Children If It Encourages Them to Drink More

(Second of two articles on drinks for children.)

Lately chocolate drinks, particularly chocolate milk drinks, have been especially popular. One of the main reasons for this is that many children like the flavor, and will drink chocolate milk when they will not drink milk.

Chocolate milk drinks vary greatly. Some are made from skimmed milk of low grade and some from skimmed milk of high grade. Many experts in nutrition have pointed to the absence of vitamin A from chocolate milk drinks made with skimmed milk. Some manufacturers add extra vitamin A to the drink.

Some experts do not recommend chocolate milk drinks because they are high in sugar tends to produce a sense of satiation and dulling of the appetite. They complain that chocolate milk drinks educate the child that for more sugar, teach the child that it is desirable to flavor milk before drinking it, and cost more than ordinary milk.

sacrifice and unselfishness. He had given up everything for the sake of His ministry. When one of the scribes came and impulsively hailed Him a teacher, assuring Him that he would follow Him where ever He went, Jesus replied in the famous words, "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head."

When another disciple, wishing to follow Him, spoke first of going to bury his father, Jesus replied in words somewhat more difficult to understand, "Follow me; and leave the dead to bury their own dead." Whatever these words may mean, they indicate the complete consecration of the Master an dthe true disciple to the ministry of love and service.

SERIAL STORY 5 WOULD KILL

BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday Dawson encountered trouble in questioning Ara. She knew the answer. At breakfast John Douglas breaks in. Dawson asks, "How did you know Miss Johnson would be here?" Dawson asks.

CHAPTER IX
"JUST how," Dawson repeated slowly, "did you know Miss Johnson would be here?"

The young man was silent. He groped for a plausible explanation. "I had called him before the officer came to the apartment," Ara broke in quickly. "I told him there might be trouble over—over last night. I told him—"

"Did you call from the apartment?" Dawson snapped.

"Yes."
"Krone, check the apartment for an outgoing call from Miss Johnson's apartment about 3 a. m., Dawson commanded. "The operator should remember it." Dawson knew Ara was lying. He turned to the others. "You may finish your breakfast. But don't try to leave the house. All entrances are watched. I'll want to talk to some of you later."

He took John Douglas' arm. "Come along, young man. I want to find out a little more about you—and your telephone call."

JOHN DOUGLAS stared at the grim-faced detective across the desk. He had got himself into this, worrying about Ara. Now he had implicated her more than ever. It was up to him to clear her at any cost. One look at Dawson's cold, steel-blue eyes convinced him that it was no use to try to lie out of it. The truth was better——if not the whole truth, at least part of it.

"Well?" Dawson asked, as he lighted his pipe.

"I'm John Douglas," the red-haired young man began. "I'm in love with Ara. I've loved her ever since I met her out Salt Lake, three months ago. I'm an engineer—a mining engineer."

"And about last night—we really were looking for a minister. I merely walked away from Officer Flynn to look at the house number, and when the car darted away and the officer shouted, I was afraid and ran. Then shortly after I reached home, Ara called."

"That's a very nice story," Dawson commented. "Now suppose you forget it and give us the truth. What were you and Ara Johnson doing at Arnold Benthorpe's house last night? You may just as well tell me, for the taxi driver is ready to talk. He told Flynn where to find the girl—and where we'd find

"Common Honesty In Everyday Matters" will be the Pastor's sermon subject at the 10:55 service Sunday morning. Do all the thieves live in Louisiana? Should anyone knowingly vote to elect to public office a thief and a robber? There are some plain, easily understood, Scriptural teachings which the pastor hopes to deal with Sunday morning.

aid will be withheld. A conference in the light of this threat may be more than usually interesting."

Mr. Bailey spoke slowly as he continued his speech. A stenographer from the state Welfare Department recorded the proceedings on a steno-type machine.

"If the new program involves what little is left of local control, we are not prepared to surrender," the governor said. "The past and present policy of aiding the distressed is to give only when federal funds are matched by the states."

"That program is not consistent with humanitarianism. If a person's hunger in California is assuaged with $15 a month, it stands to reason a person in Arkansas will require as much to avoid hunger. That is the condition up to date."

"That situation builds up the deplorable features of bureaucracy. The time has come when someone representing the state should make this statement."

you, too. He'll give away the rest of the story, unless you'd rather I'd hear it from you."

"All right—here it is. That about being in love with Ara is true. I did meet her out west. I came to New York and she followed soon after. We are to be married soon. But first, I had to see Arnold Benthorpe."

"I pushed the house early last night and saw the guards. I knew I'd never get by them alone so I framed this 'looking for a minister' scheme with Smith, the taxi driver. But Ara didn't know it wasn't on the level. She must have been awfully surprised when I disappeared and Smith drove away in such a hurry."

"But don't blame Smith too much, Captain," Douglas went on. "He saw a chance to make $50 in a hurry—I can't say I wouldn't do the same thing. He and Ara are entirely innocent. . . ."

DAWSON nodded. Better to agree with Douglas now, while he's in the mood to talk, the captain decided. And if he keeps on talking he may talk himself into the electric chair.

"I've tried to see Mr. Benthorpe at his office, at the club and even on the golf course, but I could never get close enough to speak to him. I posed as a salesman, a book agent and even as an officer, but I never made it past his private office door."

"I had to see Benthorpe—"

"Why?" Dawson asked, almost casually.

"I—I-I wanted to see him about some mining properties in Alaska. It means a great deal to me—"

"Does it mean enough to kill a man to get it?" Dawson countered.

"You'd probably think so," Douglas answered calmly. "If I had been able to see Arnold Benthorpe alive—if he was what I thought he was—I probably would have killed him. But I didn't get the chance. Someone else shot him."

"You're quite sure of that?" Dawson maneuvered his trap. "There are indications that Benthorpe might have killed himself. How do you know he didn't?"

"I don't know that. Maybe Benthorpe did kill himself. Maybe—"

"For a person who is supposed to have no knowledge of this murder, Douglas, you seem to know entirely too much. You've talked yourself into a tight spot. You'll need an air-tight alibi to prove you didn't kill Benthorpe yourself. Where were you when the shot was fired?"

"I was running across the garden to the window of the study."

"Did you see the killer?" Dawson interrupted.

"No. I hid behind some shrubbery until the officers went in the front door, then I hurried down the street to meet Ara. She was waiting at the corner, and the cab was parked in a driveway about three blocks farther on."

"You are sure you did not see anyone come out the window of the study?"

"I'm positive, Captain. I couldn't have missed seeing any person even near the window. There was no one."

Jameson appeared in the doorway. "Telephone, Captain Dawson. Your party is on this extension." He nodded toward the handset near Dawson's elbow.

"Hello, Captain Dawson speaking. . . . Yes, Flynn. . . . Good. . . . Your luck's holding. . . ."

At the other end of the wire, in Benthorpe's office, Flynn leaped through a pile of papers as he talked.

"I've got all his bank books right here. . . . first deposit was $40,000 in 1924. . . . Not much for a couple of years and then. . . . boy. . . . how the money did pour in."

"Can't find out much about him before 1924. I got the banker out of bed and he remembered that Benthorpe's first deposit was in cash."

"You might be interested to know, Captain, that Benthorpe's been buying Alston Motors. . . . on the quiet. . . . with a dummy owner. . . . Looks like he was getting ready to bounce old man Alston out. . . . It was all set. . . . Well, thought you'd like to know. . . ."

"No, I can't find a thing about 'Big Red.' Maybe Benthorpe put him into the note just to double-cross us cops. There are a thousand 'Big Reds' here in town right now. . . . How you going to pick the right one? What would a prospector be doing in the city? All right, Captain, I'll keep looking. Okay. . . . Yes, sir."

Flynn replaced the phone in its cradle, settled back in the chair and cursed, silently but fervently.

DAWSON was pleased. Things were beginning to take shape. Motives were beginning to show up. He studied Flynn's report for a few minutes before turning back to Douglas.

"You asked about a 'Big Red,' Captain," Douglas' voice broke in on his concentration. "I couldn't help hearing. A prospector, did you say?"

Dawson nodded.

"Perhaps I can help," Douglas continued. "This 'Big Red' was my uncle."

"Luckiest Man" Changes His Mind

JUNEAU, Alaska.—(AP)—Mervin (Buster) Anderson, the territory's "luckiest man," once vowed no woman would get his money.

Winner of three big Alaska guessing contests, one of them the Nenana ice pool two years ago which netted him $75,000, Anderson, a Fairbanks bus driver, said he had no thoughts of marriage.

This fall, at Circle Springs, he remarried his first wife.

West Coast Leans Toward Tennessee

Volts Stand Out As the Best Bet for Rose Bowl Nomination

By ROBERT MYERS

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Undelected Tennessee stands out as the best bet for the Rose Bowl invitation, but don't make any bets on it just yet.

Boiled down to more words than it's probably worth, predictions of this kind having a way of coming back to haunt you, here is what three authoritative sources say in behalf of the three leading teams eligible for the lucrative bid—Tennessee, Texas A. and M., and Cornell.

Tennessee will accept an invitation if it is tendered.

Texas A. and M. would like one, but will not be broken-hearted if it misses out; they'll be bidding again in 1940.

Cornell honestly and sincerely will not accept a post season engagement because of its iron clad agreement with its Ivy League brethren.

Identities of these three "authoritative sources" cannot be divulged because none wishes to be placed in the position of speaking for constituted officials of their respective alma maters.

Needless to say, however, all three are close to the guiding athletic heads of the universities, have been in contact with the front offices, and are not given to idle conversation.

The Rose Bowl picture will not be completed until Dec. 8, by that time the host Pacific Coast Conference will have played out its schedule. At present the University of Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles are tied in the chase.

A Pass Completion for Yerger as Local Negroes Beat Camden to Stay Undelected

with one tie apiece marked against them. Just behind is Oregon State, which meets U. C. L. A. here this week and which has but a defeat to U. S. C. charged to it.

A team by the name of Kentucky incidentally, could eliminate Tennessee from the running, and the Texas A. and M.-Texas Longhorn battle is seldom decided until the final gun.

In other words, many things can happen between now and December 9, and it is small wonder no sane person will allow anyone to quote him directly on forecasts of this kind.

But then, there are other people who just can't keep their silence.

INSET AT BOTTOM RIGHT — Something happened here. Both players are flat on the ground, but the Camden player is pointing an accusing finger at the Hope player.

on two running plays and then kicked 56 yards to Ellen who was brought down on his 15 as the quarter ended.

The Second Quarter

Ellen kicked on first down to Moore who was dropped in midfield by Norman Green. Moore hit the line for four, then three, then no gain. On fourth down he punted out of bounds on the Hope 16. Ellen kicked back to the Benton 45. Moore made seven through the line. He was held for no gain and then punted over the Hope goal.

Ellen lost two and then punted to midfield. Hope recovered a fumbled ball and taking possession, Joe Eason, plowing the line like John Kimbrough, smashed the line for 15. He again ripped it for 10 more. Baker went off tackle for nine and then Eason made a first down on the 12. Eason punted for three and then smashed seven more for a first down on the two. From that point, Eason shut over center for the touchdown. Ellen's kick was no good.

Eason kicked off to Moore of Benton who returned to his 30. From that point Moore put on a great exhibition of ball carrying. On a series of line plays he personally marched down the field for 60 yards—with the exception of one play. Moore made a first down on the four-yard line.

Captain Eason called for time to give his mates a rest from the bruising slashes by Moore. Eason gathered his forces for a goal-line stand. No team had penetrated the present line for a touchdown this season and the Bobcats were determined to uphold that record.

With four yards to go and four downs to make it, Moore again started pounding. He gained three. The Bobcats dug in and stopped him for no gain. A bad pass came back from center to throw Moore off-balance. He failed to gain—but there was one more down and one yard to go.

It was a crucial moment. Captain Joe Eason shot through the line, grabbed Moore before he could get started for a three-yard loss. The Bobcats took possession but before they could run a play the half ended, Hope 19, Benton 6.

The Third Period

The third quarter was scoreless. Benton was inside the Hope 30 at one time but Breeding ended what might have been a scoring threat by intercepting a Benton pass. A great deal of kicking by Moore of Benton and Ellen of Hope was witnessed. As the quarter was drawing to a close, Ellen passed to Norman Green for 20 yards to place the ball on the Benton 25. Eason slashed through to the 20 as the quarter ended.

The Final Quarter

Eason picked up another yard and Ellen swept around his left end for the remaining 19 and across the goal line standing up. Jimmy Simms kicked the extra point. Ellen was immediately removed by Coach Hammons. He had played a great ball game. The score seemed safe and Hammons didn't want to risk a possible injury to his ace ball carrier.

About the middle of the final quarter the Bobcats started rolling again with some fancy pass slinging by Joe Eason and some nice catches by Green and Simms. The Bobcats moved down the field on a series of aerial plays to the 25. Eason continued picking and shot a 25-yard pass to Simms who took it in the end zone for the final touchdown. Simms kicked goal.

Coach Hammons began flooding the field with substitutes. The game ended about four minutes later without either team threatening to score.

First downs were Hope 18, Benton 7. Hope attempted 12 passes, completed seven of them, one for a touchdown. Hope had four interceptions. Benton tried six passes, completed two and had two intercepted. Hope lost 50 yards on penalties. Benton lost 65 yards.

Cotton Goods for Christmas Gifts

National Cotton Council Enlists Support of All Shoppers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Adopting the slogan "give cotton—the King of Gifts" the National Cotton Council announced Friday that it was enlisting the support of shoppers, merchants, and the press in making the 1939 Christmas shopping season the biggest cotton sales month of the year.

The Council stated that its Cotton Christmas campaign would extend into each of the 850 counties of the Cotton Belt, with its county units cooperating with merchants, civic clubs and state governments and individuals to make the program a success.

There is no reason why the sale of cotton goods should lag behind others during the Christmas shopping season, a Cotton Council spokesman said today. "Manufacturers of cotton goods ranging from dresses to automobile seat covers are offering more attractive products than ever before."

"The list of cotton products suitable for Christmas gifts is so long and varied that no shopper need be fearful of duplications when he or she makes out the family gift list."

Pointing out that the Cotton Christmas plan offers great opportunities for a large volume of cotton goods sales, the Council said that should every person in the Belt doing Christmas shopping this year buy one cotton gift more than usual the sales of cotton products would be boosted by millions of dollars.

"Every time a person buys a cotton article for Christmas he is buying just that much prosperity for himself and the people of the American Cotton Belt," the Council declared. "It is an opportunity for cotton people to lift themselves by their own bootstraps."

"This year has been a banner year for sales of cotton. Since early spring mills have been running to capacity turning out scores of fine cotton articles. By joining together to make this Christmas a Cotton Christmas, we of the Belt can make history for King Cotton."

Key Eakin Busiest Back in the Nation

Arkansas Ace Is Number 1 Ground Gainer in College Football

SEATTLE —(AP)— For the second straight week Key Eakin, the Arkansas workhorse, and Tom Harmon, Michigan's one-man offense, rank one-two as the nation's leading ground-gainers.

The America football statistical bureau offered figures showing that Eakin, through his passing prowess, ranks first in total yards gained, while Harmon's ground sorties brought him a scant 15 yards behind the Arkansas Traveler.

Eakin, in nine games, carried the ball 105 times for 318 yards and threw it 167 times for 822 yards for a total offensive gain of 1,140 yards.

Harmon, playing only seven games, carried the ball 107 times for 338 yards and threw it 77 times for 737 yards for a 1,135 total.

Eakin is the leading passer with 69 completions for 832 yards while Harmon is the leading gainer by rushing, his 798 yards giving him a 162.1-yard average per game and a 7.46-yard average per play.

Forging ahead among the top-runners statistically is Iowa's iron man, Nile Kinnick. He ranks fifth in total offense, 13th in individual passing, third in the number of yards gained by passing, hurling 29 for 618 yards, and fifth among the punters.

Ohio State Needs Win to Get Title

Buckeyes Undelected in Conference — Meet Michigan Saturday

COLUMBUS, O.—(AP)— Ohio State's football squad got its turkey Thursday, but reserved its Thanksgiving until Saturday—after the Michigan game at Ann Arbor.

The Buckeyes' undefeated in five Big Ten starts, already are assured of a championship tie. However, they need a victory Saturday to celebrate their first undisputed title since 1920, unless Northwestern stops those inspired iron men of Iowa.

Iowa's amazing comeback despite a numerical lack of man-power has brought it four conference victories against one defeat. Another triumph would give it a first place tie should Ohio State stumble before Michigan's Mr. Harmon, Evashevski and Co.

Coincidentally, the state of Iowa do not observe Thanksgiving until next week—after the Hawkeyes final game.

Ohio's oldest brick road is believed to be a street in Steubenville laid in 1882.
